A child of Mrs. Barnes was carried 500 feet and received injuries from which it died this evening. Parliamentary Proceedings.

LONDON, July 1.—Clause 16, which declares that a person guilty of an offense against it shall be liable on summary conviction to imprisonment with or without hard labor, for a term not exceeding six months, was then taken up.

McCoan, Home Rule member for Wicklow, moved an amendment reducing the penalty to three months imprisonment.

Gladstone intimated it might be necessary to use urgency and that notice therefor would be given this evening.

Fresh relays of members arrived this morning.

Joseph Cowen gave notice he would ask Monday whether suspension of Irish members was regular.

Clause 16 was adopted—181 to 30. The government had previously consented to a limitation of the penalty for attending a proclaimed meeting and for night prowling to three months in prison, but the proposed amendments for reduction in regard to other offenses mentioned in the clause and these amendments were rejected.

On a motion to report progress Harcourt stated the government wished in the present sitting to get through all clauses in the original draft of the bill except postponed ones.

Motion was agreed to without division, but when the speaker, according to rule, appeared to receive the report of proceedings division was called for and suspension confirmed by 128 to 7.

After expulsion of the second group of Irish members, all clauses up to the thirtieth were adopted without division.

Clause twenty, which is the last of the bill and which provides this act shall continue in force until the expiration of three years next after passing thereof, was adopted [illegible].

CONGRESSIONAL PROCEEDINGS.

Senate.

WASHINGTON, July 1.

[illegible] from committee on territories reported the bill to establish the territory of Pembina and providing a temporary government therefor, placed on calendar.

Hill of Colorado offered an amendment providing that all [illegible] west of the Missouri [illegible] Washington [illegible] title [illegible] of Territory [illegible], adopted.

[illegible] adoption [illegible] joint resolution [illegible].

After discussion the bill as amended was reported to the senate and passed.

The bill passed to further [illegible] the Pacific railroad sinking fund. It [illegible] the secretary of the treasury to invest the sinking fund in the first mortgage bonds of the [illegible] Pacific and Central Pacific railroads.

The senate then in committee proceeded to consideration of the general deficiency appropriation bill, which was considered without interruption until the senate went into executive session and adjourned.

House.

Kelley asked unanimous consent to report from committee on ways and means joint resolution authorizing the secretary of the treasury to issue $200,000,000 in two per cent bonds or certificates in exchange for bonds bearing higher rate of interest.

Haseltine objected, but subsequently withdrew his objection, and after some explanations by Kelly and Randall resolution passed.

House went into committee on the naval appropriation bill, the question being an amendment offered by Calkins to strike out a provision in regard to promotions to the grade of rear admiral.

Holman moved to strike out the words "unless the president of the United States shall otherwise direct in writing" from the clause prohibiting the sale of any vessel for less than its appraised value. Adopted.

The bill having been concluded with the exception of portions for bureaus of construction and of steam engineering, Harris asked to have printed in the record the two amendments which he proposed to offer to clauses for bureau of construction and repairs and steam engineering. One of these amendments proposed to increase the appropriation for the bureau of construction and repairs from $1,750,000 to $5,000,000, of which sum $4,000,000 is to be applied to the construction of two cruising vessels of war, one of them to be not less than 600 tons displacement and one not less than 4000 tons, also one steam ram and two torpedo gunboats.

The other amendments have reference to the completion of monitors and only proposes some changes in details.

The committee then rose and the bill to repeal so much of section 3365 of the revised statutes as imposes tax on tobacco, passed.

The speaker laid before the house a message from the president returning without his approval the bill to regulate the carriage of passengers by sea. While expressing his entire sympathy with the objects of the bill, he points out three serious defects in it. The first is the use of the words, "uppermost decks," ignoring entirely all reference to the spar deck, with which almost all large modern vessels are provided. Second, is the requirement of seven clear feet in height between the decks and the third is a requirement of a list of the passengers being furnished before the vessel clears. This would be impracticable in the case of steamers, new passengers coming on board up to the last moment. The practical result of the law would be to subject all ocean steamers to great losses and to restrict immigration. A good bill of the same character correctly phrased would receive his prompt assent as a public necessity and blessing. Adjourned.

Blount's amendment to strike out the clause for a board to fill a vacancy in the grade of rear admiral was adopted, and an amendment adopted that no more promotions to the grade of commodore be made after July, 1884. The provisions follow that commodores over whom juniors are promoted are to go on the retired list with the rank of rear admiral, and making laws for retiring other naval officers apply to admiral and vice admiral, and allowing officers who have received the thanks of congress full pay until they have been 55 years in the service, were all stricken out.

Robeson's amendment confining the active lists of lieutenants in the navy to 100 was adopted.

THE TURF.

Races at Chicago.

CHICAGO, July 1.—Third race—1¼ mile heats. Pools—Topsy $150, Duchess of Norfolk $100, Madame Rowell $25. Topsy got the best start and led to the lower turn, Duchess next. Coming around the turn Duchess took the lead and won easily by two lengths, Topsy 2d, Rowell 3d, time 2:13¾.

Second heat—Pools—Duchess $100, field $25. Duchess went to the lead at once and was never headed, winning in a canter under double pull by half a dozen lengths, Rowell 2d, time 2:16¼.

Fourth race—Hurdle handicap, two miles. Pools—Judge Burnett $100, field $100. The three ran well together to the fourth hurdle, when Dora fell and rolled directly over her rider, injuring him quite severely. After passing the fifth hurdle Burnett won easily by half a dozen lengths. Time 4:20.

Fifth race—Selling purse, 1⅛ miles, all ages. Pools—Sam Becker $100, John Sullivan $30, Jack Haverly $40. Sullivan and Haverly ran head and head for seven furlongs, when Haverly began to fall away and Becker to move up, but Sullivan held the lead and won by four lengths, Becker 2d, Haverly 3d; time 2:02.

Sixth race, ¾ mile, all ages. Pools—Bell Boy $165, Saunterer $125, field $35. The finish was between Goldnight and Saunterer. The former won, Saunterer 2d, Intrinsic 3d, time 1:21.

Comment on the Races.

CHICAGO, July 2.—The Tribune says, speaking of the Golden City cup race: In point of form, the [illegible] was the best of the four starters, and consequently she was well supported in the pools, bringing even money against the field, but in spite of Murphy's artistic driving the old horse wasn't equal to the task. Coleberg failed to lead when called upon to do so and was obliged to put up with third place, Clara D being a good second. John Davis, seeing the California mare occupying so prominent a place in the race recalled to many of those present the scenes of three years ago, when the first Garden City cup was [illegible]. At the end of two miles the two California entries, Clara D and Mollie McCarthy were leading the entire field, the latter finally winning [illegible] in 4:02. That year starters numbered a round dozen, and the victory of Mollie created sad havoc among Kentucky men who were present in full force, and backed Gristead, a mare, for all they possessed. In the heat race Duchess of Norfolk, Topsy and Madam Rowell were starters. Topsy was the favorite, selling for $130, $100 for the Duchess and $25 for Madame Rowell. In the first heat Topsy went away with the lead, the California filly in the second place and Rowell last, her rider evidently not intending to try for the heat. Topsy played in the front until the three quarter mile had been run, when the Duchess of Norfolk went alongside and in running 400 yards had her beaten. Down the home stretch it was easy work for the Duchess, who went under the wire in [illegible], two lengths ahead of Topsy, Madame R. well third. The betting now was $100 to $25 on the Duchess of Norfolk. She took the lead when the drum tapped and running under a strong pull all the way, came to the wire in a canter, five lengths ahead of Madame Rowell and Topsy a like distance. Time 2:16¾.

California horses here are just rounding to true form and showing something of their speed. Yesterday Lucky B was the first to bear the Maltese cross to the front by winning the Rich two year old stake. To-day two coast horses ran into places. In the Golden City cup of 2¼ miles Clara D ran a good second, and though the time was 27¾ seconds slower than that in which Mollie McCarthy won the same event the fact should be considered that the track was extremely slow and the race run twenty five feet from the pole, making the distance nearer 2⅜ than 2¼ miles. That it was a well run race is known by the fact that she finished in front of such horses as [illegible] and Blaze. Her running was rather a surprise to the California delegation here and she was merely backed to win, though some money was on her for second place. Yesterday's dispatches gave Californians a straight tip on Duchess of Norfolk in 1¼ mile heats. In betting here this morning Topsy was the favorite, but Duchess won the race in straight heats in a canter, landing a snug sum for her backers. Those who thought she couldn't stay a heat race over the heavy track had occasion to regret their misjudgment. The promise now is for a good track Monday and Tuesday, and coast horses promise well. Monday Baldwin has Lucky B and Grismere in the Nursery stake worth about $2000 and Tuesday Winters has Duchess of Norfolk in the Illinois Derby worth a like amount. With a good day and track they will not be forgotten long [illegible] when they come to the post.

Races at Monmouth Park.

MONMOUTH PARK, N. J., July 1.—First race, one mile, Jim Farrell first, Wyoming second, Duplex third. Time 1:47¼.

MONMOUTH PARK, July 1.—Second race, Hopeful stakes, ¾ mile, George Kenny first, [illegible] second, [illegible] third. Time 1:06¼.

Ocean stakes, 1⅛ miles, Burdett first, Runnymede second, Stonehenge Colt third. Time [illegible].

Long Branch handicap, 1½ miles, Monitor first, [illegible] second, Jonathan third. Time [illegible].

Selling race, 1 mile, Alaska first, Clarence second, Blenheim third. Time 1:49¼.

Steeplechase, Bertha first, Ohio Boy second, Frank Short third. Time [illegible].

Guiteau's Body Buried in the Corner of the Jail Yard.

HIS BRAIN IN THE HANDS OF THE PHYSICIANS YET.

No Indications Denoting Insanity Found. Postal Statistics—[illegible] the Department will be Self Sustaining this Year.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

WASHINGTON, July 1.—[illegible] if it was true that [illegible] normal condition [illegible] far as the brain [illegible] that [illegible] will be [illegible].

Was the [illegible]?

"Not [illegible] expectation [illegible] brain with a [illegible] condition."

Drs. Lamb and Sowers [illegible] it will be several days before he reports. [illegible] Dr. Hartigan [illegible] were [illegible] were disposed to favor the insanity theory, [illegible] had often seen the same condition of the membrane in persons never suspected of insanity. Dr. McDonald, whose expert testimony during the [illegible] trial formed a feature, attended the autopsy yesterday and was to-day asked if the brain was in a healthy condition.

"Yes," was the reply, "that was the case. It could hardly have been in better condition. In weight it was one half ounce below normal. Its appearance was healthy."

"Was not this an unexpected result?"

"Not to me at least. It was no more than I expected. I have seen no reason to change my opinion of deceased."

"But does the brain indicate the mental condition?"

"To a certain extent, yes, and as work with the microscope becomes more accurate it will show it more fully. A diseased brain is regarded as the indication of insanity, although some people have been known to have diseased brains."

"But it is said that the membrane was diseased?"

"It was not healthy. Its condition might or might not indicate disease. Microscopic examination will show that and determine exactly what it does indicate."

"Will there be anything further developed in the examination of the brain to change your opinion?"

"I don't see how there can be. The examination will be continued and will be as thorough as possible and will give minute particulars, but general conclusions arrived at will not be changed. In my opinion the brain was a good one."

Guiteau's Grave.

WASHINGTON, July 1.—Guiteau was buried this afternoon in the northeast corner of the jail and so far as known to the contrary his remains will lie there undisturbed by any future sepulchre. Under the law the disposition of the bodies of criminals who are executed rests within the discretion of the warden. In the case of Guiteau his sister, Mrs. Scoville, was without means and could not have undertaken his burial expenses even if she were permitted to do so. The only other relative who has appeared on the scene is his brother, John W. Guiteau, who was unwilling to assume the risk of taking charge of the remains, believing that he would be powerless to prevent body snatchers from stealing them. General Crocker resolved to bury the assassin's body within the walls of the jail, where it would be beyond reach alike of vengeance or speculation. The northeast corner in which Guiteau is buried is on the opposite side of the rotunda from the one in which he was hung and from the window of the cell in which he was confined one can look down upon his grave. The brick floor was removed this morning and a grave seven feet deep was dug and at four o'clock this afternoon the coffin containing Chas. J. Guiteau was borne from the chapel upon the shoulders of six jail prisoners and without any service or ceremony whatever was lowered into the grave and buried from sight. The only persons present were John W. Guiteau, Dr. Hicks, Warden Crocker and a son, Mr. Wright, Undertaker Warde, the engineer of the jail, Deputy Warden Russ, Captain Crocker and the six prisoners who acted as pall bearers. The coffin was [illegible] last night and no one has since been permitted to see the remains. Miss Scoville, accompanied by Miss Chevallier, arrived at the jail shortly before 4 o'clock and importuned the warden that they might be allowed to see the remains and witness the burial. Gen. Crocker however remained [illegible] [illegible] and after a few minutes she returned to the [illegible], leaving a number of flower pieces which she had brought with her and which she had expected to place upon the grave. As the body was being taken down the steps leading from the chapel to the central rotunda of the building, the mourners or rather witnesses [illegible] to the northeast rotunda silently [illegible] behind the convict pall bearers. Arriving at the grave, the little procession halted, and Warden Crocker looked inquiringly first toward Dr. Hicks and then toward J. W. Guiteau. "All right," said the latter, with the same imperturbable composure he has exhibited all through the ordeal of the last three days, and the coffin was lowered to its place. After the earth had been replaced and the top of the grave leveled off John W. Guiteau stepped forward and placed at its head a crown of white immortelles. Not a word was spoken, not a tear was shed. An outcast from human sympathy when living, Guiteau has found an unwept sepulchre in an unmarked grave.

Washington Notes.

WASHINGTON, July 1.—A permit to bury the body of Guiteau in the jail has been issued.

General Rosecrans was before the house committee on buildings this morning to urge early consideration of his bill for purchase of a site and erection of a postoffice and custom house in San Francisco.

Commissioner West's Pedigree.

WASHINGTON, July 1.—Ex-Senator West, who was nominated by the president to-day to be one of the commissioners for the district of Columbia, was born in New Orleans in 1832. He served with some distinction in the Mexican war. In 1849 he emigrated to California. When the war broke out he entered the Union army as a lieutenant colonel of the first California infantry and subsequently attained the rank of brevet major general. After the war he settled in New Orleans and was elected as a republican to represent New Orleans in the United States senate and took his seat in March 1871. The Star says West is well informed in regard to the district's needs and his nomination will be received with general favor. He is regarded, by those who know him, as a clear headed man and one who is well qualified for the important duties of the office for which the president has selected him.

Postal Statistics.

Issues to postmasters of postage stamps, stamped envelopes and postal cards for the fiscal year ended June 30 amount to 1,740,311,038 pieces, of an aggregate value of $[illegible], increase over issue of preceding fiscal year of [illegible] pieces, of an aggregate value of [illegible] per cent. Unexpended balance $[illegible], or 15.4 per cent of the appropriation. Over a billion three cent stamps and 350,000,000 [illegible] were [illegible] the past year. As the result of these figures the department officials feel warranted in asserting that when the final statement of receipts and expenditures for the year are completed it will [illegible] found that the postal service is self sustaining. [illegible] This is the first year since 1831 in which the receipts of the post office department balanced the expenditures, with the exception of [illegible] during the war. There were [illegible] postoffices in the United States on June 30, 1882, an increase of [illegible] over 1881.

Memorial from Match Makers.

WASHINGTON, July 1.—Senator Miller presented a memorial from match manufacturers of the Pacific coast against repealing the stamp tax on matches. The memorial, which is signed by Benj. H. Gore, secretary of the association, says the passage of this measure would destroy [illegible] the match manufacturing industry [illegible] Pacific coast, in view of competition from Chinese and from the cheap labor markets of Sweden and Germany.

Nominations.

Nominations were made of J. R. West [illegible] commissioner of the district of Columbia [illegible]; Lew Wallace of Indiana, minister to Turkey; Henry C. Hall, minister to the Central American States; J. H. [illegible] of Kansas, Minister to Siam; J. M. Francis of New York, Minister to Portugal; [illegible] of Texas, minister to Denmark; Michael J. Cramer of Kentucky, minister to Switzerland; James R. [illegible], secretary of legation and consul general at Vienna; Lewis Richmond of R. I., secretary of legation and consul [illegible]; [illegible], U. S. consul at Beirut; A. [illegible] Sharp of Kansas, U. S. consul at Manila; Jerome A. Lathrop of Nevada, U. S. consul at Bristol.

Out of the long list of diplomatic appointments sent to the senate to-day there are [illegible] new names [illegible]. Sharp of Kansas at Manila and Lathrop of Nevada at Bristol are the new appointments. The appointment of [illegible] is a local selection, as the office is not worth over $[illegible] a year.

Confirmations.

John M. Daggett of Nevada, minister resident at Hawaiian islands; George Pomeroy, agent and consul at Cairo; John Fowler of New York, consul at Trinidad; Charles M. [illegible] mint at San Francisco; John S. Dormer, melter of mint at Denver.

Preston Bros. & Stimpson of [illegible] obtained an average of thirty and a half pounds of wool from nine head of Buck's thorough bred American Merinos. One two year old sheared 31 pounds.

The Walla Walla assessment roll aggregates $2,441,510. Upon this a tax of 8 mills will be collected for school building purposes. An architect is preparing plans and specifications for the building and it is hoped that the same will be ready for occupancy this fall.

James Knott, a carpenter, was building a curbing over a well in Walla Walla a few days ago when the plank on which he was standing gave way, precipitating him to the bottom, a distance of forty feet. He was rescued as quickly as possible but was found speechless. He recovered his breath and voice in a short time.

All the machinery for the manufacture of ice has arrived at Seattle, except one piece which was left on the wharf at San Francisco. The ice company expected to be turning out ice by the ton for use on the 4th of July, but are disappointed by the non-arrival of the missing link, which will be shipped on the Empire.

An attempt was made last week to vote a tax of $5000 to build a central school house in New Tacoma. Only 68 votes were polled, 46 of which were against the tax. Another attempt will be made to raise by special tax $3000, one-half of which will be used to purchase a suitable site and the other to build and furnish a school house.

A Dayton correspondent says: There are two things that Dayton needs, viz: a first class brick hotel and an enterprising man to purchase and run the woolen mills. There is no use for the people east of the Cascades to pay freight on wool two ways when it could be saved by the operation of a first-class woolen mill somewhere in the bunch grass country.

By the consolidation of various Indian agencies in this territory, Capt. Chas. Willoughby, agent of Neah bay, Gen. R. H. Milroy, agent of Nisqually, Puyallup, Squaxon and Chehalis, and Jas. O'Keane, of Tulalip and other reservations, are displaced. Agent Edwin Eels now has charge of all the Indians about the upper Sound, and Oliver E. Wood, of Quinault, those along the coast and Neah bay.

More room being required at the Insane hospital for the accommodation of patients, the trustees at the last monthly meeting decided to utilize three buildings formerly occupied by attendants, and convert them into a ward. A contract will, therefore, be let for removing the buildings alluded to, and doing the work necessary to make them available for patients, and bids will be received at the office of the superintendent until July 11th.

W. W. Davis, of Kingdom of Heaven fame, some time since borrowed money from Levi Ankeny and Dru Hull of Walla Walla, which at this time, with interest included, amounts to five or six thousand dollars. In the mean time Davis & Son transferred their interest in the Kingdom of Heaven stock, cattle, etc., to a son of [illegible] Howard. Messrs. Hull & Ankeny attached their stock; they endeavored to have the attachment dissolved and succeeded. The costs were charged on Messrs. Hull & Ankeny.

Arrangements are made for work to commence soon on the Whitman seminary next week. The latest improved seats have been ordered from Portland. The old floors are to be torn up, the ceiling whitewashed and the walls kalsomined. To complete the improvement a new picket fence is to be built in place of the dilapidated one that now encloses the grounds. Eight hundred dollars is the estimated cost of repairing. Prof. Anderson, with his assistants, will open a school in this building sometime in September.

Vashon island has at present eight white settlers, consisting of energetic and enterprising men, with their families, who have taken up homes for themselves. Considering the length of time they have lived there they have opened up and put in cultivation considerable land, and are now realizing the fruit of their labor in the harvesting of good crops, cereals as well as fruit and vegetables. There is plenty of room and as good land as can be found in western Washington for several families yet who may be looking for homes.

Mr. Abbott and his neighbors in Thurston county are digging a ditch which will be over four miles in length when fully completed. One mile of it is finished. It begins at Salmon creek, which [illegible] into Black river, and goes to H. H. McGuire's, at South Union. For three miles it will be twelve feet wide and from two to six feet deep, and then with smaller branches it will be continued a mile or more further. It goes through seven farms, besides a large amount of government land, and will drain several thousand acres of land.

It has now become an undisputed fact that the yield of grain in this county will not be nearly so large as was at first expected. All over the country wheat and barley can be seen heading out at one half the length that it usually does, and the farmers, though not despondent, are not so jubilant as they might be. The lack of rain during the last month has been of immense damage to the country. The heads of the wheat seem to be filling very well, but the straw is light. If the average yield of wheat reaches twenty five bushels to the acre we will be satisfied now, whereas thirty five was expected.

Frank S. Alling, of Pierce county, has on his place a small strawberry bed. It is about 20x50 feet and contains about fourteen rows of plants. The berries are now ripe, and he picks about fifty pounds per day and will continue to do so for fully a fortnight. The fruit is large and sweet, and sells readily for twelve and thirteen cents per pound. It does not require much figuring to prove that an acre set out in strawberries, cultivated as well as Alling's small bed, is worth more than $1000. Alling's plants are growing on the land which many people who have [illegible] experience in the matter contend is valueless for any purpose.

In proof that the portion of Klickitat county lying west of Klickitat river, and down the Columbia to Major creek, cannot be surpassed as a fruit region, a correspondent submits the following: There is now growing at Pine hill two and three year old apple trees that are bearing fine specimens of fruit, three year cherry trees of the May Duke, Royal Ann and Kentish varieties that have ripened a crop of cherries both this year and last, three year old peach trees in bearing, and two or three year old grape vines that are loaded with fruit. Blackberry and raspberry bushes are a sight to behold, there being no room for any more fruit on [illegible] bush. The first large red raspberries were picked on the [illegible]. We have peach trees (dormant buds) set this spring that have made from [illegible] to 30 inches growth. Seedling peach pits planted this spring have made from 10 to 18 inches, while our apple grafts are from 10 to 18 inches high. And as this spring was unusually cold and frosty, and since the month of April the season has been one of unparalleled drought for this region, it argues that this part of Klickitat county at least must possess the necessary elements for successful fruit and fruit tree culture. We would also call attention to the apple and peach trees of Mr. Vanbrebber. They are growing in a timothy sod, have received no care, cultivation or pruning other than what the stock give during the winter, yet they bear a goodly crop of fruit yearly. And the same may be said of the orchard and vineyard of Joe O'Lyle at the mouth of the Klickitat.

WASHINGTON TERRITORY.

Walla Walla Crops.

WALLA WALLA (W. T.), July 1.—In the Walla Walla valley the crops will hardly be up to the general average. The dry weather has prevented grain from growing; still wheat is heading out fairly, but the harvest will not nearly come up to expectations formed one month since. This is caused as much by poor farming as by drought. In many instances volunteer wheat has been allowed to grow three seasons in succession on the same ground. Fall sown wheat is up to the usual average and so is the spring wheat where any care has been taken to put it in properly. Fully one-half the country this year is in summer fallow.

A GENTILE GROWL.

Indignation of a Salt Lake Newspaper at the Composition of the Utah Commission.

SALT LAKE, June 16.—The Tribune, after speaking favorably of the men appointed on the Utah commission, says: At the same time the nomination of this commission is a slight and reproach to Utah. To [illegible] to not be able to find one man in Utah who in the president's estimation is worthy to be named on the commission, is simply a proof that in the narrow estimation of the east there is here but a low order of intellect and of integrity. It is the same feeling which in the east caused men in congress and those creatures which are given [illegible] of a corporation press to refer to the solemn [illegible] 161 votes of California as simply a [illegible]. It is a little hard to bear this assumed superiority of a people who, while strong in the aggregate, individually are so weak that it would take a thousand of them to supply manhood enough for one gray haired miner of the west. But it will all come right after awhile. We do not doubt but President Arthur has done what he thought was best, with one Jack Mormon adviser in his cabinet and one man who knows nothing but the tricky side of politics and who in every appointment seeks to place a support where it will be convenient to rest upon when the labor of putting up conventions two years hence will have to be done.

We understand all this, but when a petition signed by the foremost men of the territory and backed by senators and judges of the supreme court of the United States, asking for an appointment on the score of eminent worth, stainless integrity and a full knowledge both of the law and of the facts, is contemptuously ignored, it would be cowardly not to say that the people here who have the greatest direct interest in this business, and those whose voices ought to have the most weight, feel that they have been personally and unjustly slighted, and that the president of the United States has served a notice up in the country that in his estimation there is very little difference between the men here who are trying to uphold the republic and those others who are trying to tear it down.

Progress of the Great Work in Montana.

Helena Independent.

Mr. Washington Dunn, the largest grading contractor upon the line of the Northern Pacific, arrived in the city last evening from Missoula, and gave us the following data in regard to the progress of the work under his supervision. Mr. Dunn's contract embraces 225 miles lying in Missoula, Deer Lodge, Lewis and Clark and Jefferson counties, and the whole of it is being pushed with energy. He is satisfied that the line will be running through from the Atlantic to the Pacific coast by the first of September 1883. The 40 miles from Helena to Bedford, which have been sublet by Messrs. Dunn & Fyhrie to one contractor, will be completed within the next three months, as men and teams are working upon every mile of it. The whole of Clark's Fork division, extending from a few miles west of Mullan tunnel to the junction of the Pend d'Oreille and the Missoula river, a distance of 150 miles, will be completed this season. On the Hell Gate river there are 125 teams working and 1.5 more will commence work at the same place within a few days. There are [illegible] teams at work immediately west of Missoula, and 150 more on the [illegible], all of which are from Utah. A part of the latter may be put to work on the Little Blackfoot and the remainder will go upon the work west of Missoula. Two hundred teams are at work between Helena and Bedford.

Seventy miles of the work west of Missoula have been sublet by Col. Dunn to Mormons, and the first 35 miles east of Missoula have been sublet to Messrs. Fisk & Bass, and the adjoining 26 miles are being pushed by Mr. Nelson Bennett.

MONDAY MORNING, JULY 3, 1882.

AN OREGON STAR ROUTE.

The star route trials at Washington embrace a wide field of inquiry. Testimony is being taken, on the cases now in hand, from many states and territories. On some of the Oregon routes there has been already a great deal of incidental inquiry, but not that thorough investigation which the facts require. This, however, may come along in time. One of the most remarkable of the Oregon swindles was that by which the route from The Dalles to Baker City was worked up from the original bid of $8283 to the fancy figure of $72,520. A few days ago testimony in relation to this feat of the swindlers was submitted, which established two points, namely, that the sworn statement of Peck, the contractor, on which increased pay was granted was fraudulent, and that he got pay for the increased service for a whole year before he began to perform it, thus cheating the government in a direct way out of $43,000. The route was 275 miles long, and when Peck took the contract he agreed to make two trips a week on a schedule of 120 hours, or at the rate of about 2 1-3 miles per hour. He made a sworn statement to the effect that if the speed should be increased to 3 5-6 miles per hour his force would have to be raised from 8 men and 10 horses to 26 men and 66 horses; and this sworn statement furnished the basis for computing the additional allowance for increased speed. But the government put on the stand the drivers who carried the mail over the route in 1878 and 1879, a driver who carried the mail over the route in 1880 and 1881, the man who kept the stock for the contractor and the postmaster at Canyon City, and by these sufficient witnesses overthrew Peck's sworn statement and disclosed the fraud on which the largely increased pay for expedition was secured. It was shown that, instead of only 8 men and 10 horses on the whole line, there were in constant use 34 horses and 4 men, at the date of the sworn statement, on only 200 miles of the route, or that part from The Dalles to Canyon City. There were 14 horses and 3 men used on the remainder. The pay for increased speed began in November, 1878, and 7 trips a week were put on July 14, 1879. It having been shown that thirty horses and four men were used [illegible] The Dalles to Canyon City before increased speed was ordered, it was then shown that after increased speed had been ordered and paid for there were in use on the same section only 36 horses and four men, and that after four trips were added, in July, 1879, there were used only 44 horses and six men.

[illegible] had been given in the sworn statement, the additional pay would have been a small item, but by placing the number [illegible] below the actual number, and [illegible] number to be used unwarrantably large, a proportion was established which yielded an increase for expedition alone of $43,000 per annum. The drivers testified that the increased speed, or expedition, which was paid for [illegible], did not begin until November, 1879, or one year later. When it did begin hardly any more horses were used and only two or three additional drivers. The witnesses were cross-examined at length, but their statements were not shaken. An attempt was made to drag in the Indian troubles as the [illegible] for the employment of many men and [illegible], but the drivers testified that they had not been prevented by Indians from carrying the mails, and that the Indians had gone back to their reservation, or were going back when Peck's statement was made. The defense found it difficult to handle this statement, which was a sort of two-edged sword, cutting both ways, the number sworn to being so far [illegible] both rates and speed. It was shown, too, that some of the petitions for increased service were forged, or manufactured. One long petition was exhibited, the owner of a ranch who has carried the mail on the route for several years and lived on the line twenty years, and he could not recognize any of the names of those of residents along the line. Some of the petitions were circulated by the contractor's agents, who were extremely anxious to show the suffering ranchmen that they greatly needed increased mail service—a thing they hadn't themselves thought of.

It was also shown by the witnesses for government that the route was wholly a local one, and entirely unnecessary as a through line; for at the same time a through line, connecting [illegible], from Kelton, on the Union Pacific road, northwestward to The Dalles, touching this route only at the eastern terminus. This through route [illegible] direct communication between Baker City and the [illegible] termini of the route under [illegible] the [illegible] route went over the through route via The Dalles, and was then brought back as far as Canyon City, a place of only 300 inhabitants. This evidence disposed of any claim that the route was of sufficient importance to warrant so great an expenditure upon it. The through mails east and west all went over the other line, which extended between the same points. The whole scheme was worked up and carried out as a fraud upon the government. Like other schemes of its kind, its object was to enrich its managers by robbery of the public treasury. It is but only one of hundreds of the same kind. We shall have the results of the inquiry into a dozen more in Oregon, as the trials proceed.

SOFT SOAP.

According to census bulletin No. 286, summarizing the amount and value of chemicals manufactured in the United States, this country produces annually 34,494,100 pounds of soft soap of the value of $858,280, or a trifle over a cent a pound. Of course we do not expect [illegible] to be more than approximately accurate, but when it undertakes to reduce the amount and value of soft soap to such insignificant figures as are here furnished, its conclusions must be antagonized by the experience of the most ordinary observer. The consumption of soft soap is as universal as the consumption of water, though not always for the same purpose. In our intercourse with the world around us, we come in contact with many a rusty hinge of human action, that can be affected by this lubricator more readily than by anything else. If this will not move it, we may conclude that it is immovable. Soft soap is not alone an article of commerce; it is an article that gives to the wheels of commerce freedom of movement and overcomes friction. It is a part of the equipment of the man whose capital is largely in his powers of persuasion. The book agent carries it with him into the farmer's family, and it frequently enables him to loosen the rustiest clasp or the tightest purse strings. In seasons of speculation it is invaluable to the manipulator of stocks and bonds and miscellaneous investments. The boa constrictor covers his victim with saliva before swallowing it, and the suave and considerate dispenser of bonanza stock anoints the lambs with soft soap before he shears them, and frequently gives them a fresh application thereafter to prevent their taking cold. The lobbyist carries it about him in large quantities, and we should say a cent a pound would be dear for it at such a lavish rate as he bestows it upon the representatives of the people, though he not unfrequently mixes it with "soap" of a more substantial character, and when he makes advances with such double unction he is an almost invincibly attractive fellow. The politican uses soft soap in his efforts to get himself into authority. That he deals it out in thin doses in the way of complimentary attentions and cheap promises does not affect its usefulness to him. We are a nation of 50,000,000, and from the tramp upon the street—who uses all his soft soap upon others—to the president in his uneasy chair, there is a daily expenditure of soft soap by almost every individual; and no census official need tell us that any thirty odd million pounds a year will answer the purpose. We may find some of this evident deficiency accounted for under the head of "taffy," but that will argue a defective system of classification. Taffy is milder in its effects, and is, or should be, used in less urgent situations. That it is indispensable we will allow, but it cannot be depended upon for extraordinary service, where a quick and powerful agent is required, as certainly as the stimulus we have been discussing. We are sorry the census cannot give us any more trustworthy figures on this point, for an accurate gauge of the consumption of all kinds of soft soap would be of great metaphysical, as well as material, interest.

A CONSEQUENCE OF POOR FARMING.

A dispatch from Walla Walla, in reporting the condition of the growing wheat crop, presents a just and timely criticism. Instances of partial failure, it is said, are due not so much to unfavorable weather as to poor farming. Fields having been cropped for three successive seasons fail to repeat the extraordinary yields which so boomed the eastern lands a few years. But this was a result naturally to be expected; and before the lands are completely impoverished methods of agriculture should be changed. In the Willamette valley many fields have been cropped without rest in many instances for more than twenty years. Our abundant rains have maintained the land under this constant drain, but will not always preserve it. Already old fields are weakening, and—in Yamhill and Polk counties, notably—yields of particular places have fallen off wonderfully in the past two years. Our lands are not exhaustless mines of grain, and farmers should learn this while yet there is time to prevent serious damage. The dryer region east of the Cascade mountains has not the advantage of reviving rains, and its fields will much sooner be exhausted than those of the Willamette valley. Means of fertilization are cheap and can easily be secured; but it should not be forgotten that the greater fertilizer is rest.

The sentiment [illegible] in the bursting of fire-crackers on the "glorious fourth," the [illegible] particularly if he owns [illegible] of all times, this is one when [illegible] should be vigilant and [illegible] ready for service. [illegible] underwriters have [illegible] the attention o[illegible] and urging that [illegible] be taken. The council [illegible] water should by actual [illegible] hose, etc., are ready for use in case of need to-night and to-morrow.

The work of dragging on the bar at the mouth of the Columbia is in satisfactory progress and is, it is thought, accomplishing some benefit. It is a pleasure to record that Capt. Flavel whom we have so often had occasion to criticise, is lending important aid to the government authorities in this matter.

FIRST OF THE SERIES.

Match Game of Base Ball between the Stars and the Clippers, of Oregon City, Yesterday.

The first of a series of three games between the Stars, of Portland, and the Clippers, of Oregon City, was played yesterday on the South Portland grounds. The game was called at 12 40 P M, by C D Ford umpire, with the Stars at bat. For the first four innings the game gave promise of being an unusually excellent one, the score standing at this stage, 3 to 1 in favor of the Stars. The Clippers were not the equals of the Stars at bat, but both clubs were doing finely in the field

In the fifth inning, however, the Stars secured five runs by errors, notably of the pitcher and shortstop, waiting each for the other to catch a fly while it dropped between them. From this it became painfully evident that the Clippers had no head, and it was this fact rather than the lack of science to which must be charged the bad defeat that followed. When the Clippers came to bat in this inning, the Stars changed pitcher and catcher on them, and they became utterly demoralized. Their playing was a succession of errors from this time until the close of the game. The Stars did their best, and earned many runs in addition to to those given them by their opponents

The score stood 22 to 1 at the beginning of the first half of the ninth inning, with the Clippers at the bat. Brandt had resumed his position behind the striker, and dropping a ball after three strikes, neglected to touch the batsman who for a minute stood still. Then, recollecting himself, he started for first, and Brandt threw the ball wild, giving the man second. From this error, two runs were gained. Brandt was retired to the field and D. Coulter caught during the remainder of the game, which was finished without further scoring. The error of Brandt's was pure carelessness, and is deserving of censure. If the Stars hope to succeed as a crack club, the sooner every member feels that it is work, and not play, in which they they are engaged, the better it will be for them

The game occupied just three hours. T F Bradley scored for the Stars, and G W McCarver for the Clippers. Ed. Miller sat in a hack during the game, an interested spectator. There were a large number of spectators present. The total score was 23 to 3 in favor of the Stars. The next game will be played at Oregon City

IRISH LAND LEAGUE.

Notwithstanding the large number of picnics and the excessive heat of the day, Redmen's hall was crowded by land leaguers and their friends, a large proportion being ladies. Under the guidance of the new glee club the vocal and instrumental music was of first-class order, the duet by Miss Hanley and Mr. Marion being very fine. Songs and recitations were numerous and well rendered, one from Mrs. Grant being particularly noticeable. The committee on picnic reported over $400 clear profit in hand. A set of strong resolutions of sympathy and encouragement, to be forwarded to the ladies' land league, of Cleveland, Ohio, was unanimously adopted.

Before adjourning a resolution was adopted favoring a meeting of members in Vancouver on the 4th after the general celebration for the purpose of passing resolutions complimentary of the day, and to help organize a league in that town. The Vancouver House is expected to be the place of meeting

HORSE THIEF KILLED.

[SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN]

Linkville, (via Ashland) July 2—Wm Webb and Matt Sykes have just arrived with horses stolen from Jackson county two weeks ago. They followed the thieves across the state line, secured the services of constable Blake of Adin, came upon them asleep last Tuesday, and ordered hands up. They rose up firing. Seventeen shots were rapidly exchanged, resulting in the killing of one of the thieves and fatal wounding of the other. The constable and party were unhurt. The captured thief refused to give his name and that of his dead companion.

INCREASED HACK FARE.

Reasons Given by an Owner for Raising the Rates

Why did you owners raise the price of hack hire? asked an Oregonian reporter yesterday of George W [illegible] of the firm of A[illegible] & [illegible]

We have not raised the prices except for calling and for funerals, answered the [illegible] man

But your advertised rates [illegible] raised prices [illegible] suggested the reporter. [illegible] the [illegible] half a dollar

We charge only half a dollar [illegible] an[illegible] And the increased rates of fare are intended [illegible] order in advance [illegible] a man [illegible] a hack [illegible] till he is through. Suppose under the old arrangement a man [illegible] that he wants a hack at his residence at [illegible] We are [illegible] have one [illegible] it may be the only hack in the barn [illegible] application [illegible] for a hack to the White House which will realize $10. We have to refuse the application and will probably [illegible] Then for example we drive to the man's house. His wife will say [illegible] photographer's. She gets [illegible] at half past four [illegible] thing [illegible] The hack [illegible] at [illegible] conveys the lady where [illegible] getting regular calling rates [illegible] single fares

[illegible] the same as before. If you get off a train or [illegible] a carriage at the stand or upon the street [illegible] telephone to one immediately the fare is just what it used to be, fifty cents. It is only when hacks are reserved or ordered at a stated time (which is the same thing) that the charges are higher. Besides you will notice that even when ordered in advance we charge no more for two than for one: one ordinary rider

Rates are higher to the theater parties etc

Not any higher than formerly except when the hack is reserved. [illegible] the [illegible] He expects to have it the exact minute ordered and demands that it be waiting for him when he leaves the theater whether at the close of the entertainment or half an hour before. If a person takes a disengaged carriage after the theater is out the rates are the same as before

How about the advance in calling rates and for funerals?

We were obliged to raise the price. In calling we were continually imposed on. Ladies usually call in threes or fours, not all from one family, but from as many families as there were ladies. Our new rates for calling are lower than in any other city on the coast. Funerals are poor pay. Whether a carriage is ordered at 1, 2 or 3 o'clock, by the time we have waited for the church services, go across, return and distribute passengers all over town it means all afternoon. The carriages are usually scratched by crowding on the ferry and the rough road don't do them any good. A decent vehicle costs $1500. Send it to a few funerals and it soon has to go into the shop for revarnishing, and any sort of repair means $100. We are not in the hack business for the fun of the thing but expect to make a living out of it, keep up repairs and furnish good rigs, and we can't do this under the old system

GROWLS AND SUGGESTIONS.

The Advanced Hack Charges.

To the Editor of the Oregonian:

Will you allow me to complain through the columns [illegible] of what myself and many others believe to be a public injustice. I refer to the increased rates [illegible] the hack companies [illegible] on the good business principle [illegible] at least [illegible] raise rates [illegible] In the first place the [illegible] nies both have [illegible] [illegible] another [illegible] the old rates and [illegible] two [illegible] business. Nor has this competition hindered the old companies from getting fair [illegible] profitable returns upon their stock [illegible] with need of higher rates. Under the old [illegible] from [illegible] parties to and [illegible] carriage calls have [illegible] the [illegible] Under the new schedule only the rich can ride. Surely a large, liberal [illegible] rates would yield more [illegible] the new [illegible] turn [illegible] their business [illegible] I [illegible] wish to say that [illegible] are not [illegible] the new rates and that [illegible] will not do it. We will walk first. We would not complain at paying [illegible] carriage rates which have [illegible] and which will [illegible] yield fair profits but [illegible] plain and with justice [illegible] charges which are out of proportion to the service [illegible] that the hack [illegible] will [illegible] the old prices

The Fire Plugs

To the Editor:

I am a nearly stranger here, having lived in Portland only four months and am [illegible] in [illegible] matters. Will you please inform what the fire plugs which I have seen in several [illegible] are for? I have never seen them used [illegible] sprinkling streets which certainly need wetting down

MELLIS MELLIS

The Daily Oregonian.

MONDAY MORNIN , JULY 3, 1882

NEWS OF SATURDAY.

[From the Sunday Oregonian.]

A Relic for Sale.

CHICAGO, July 1.—The championship lady's belt won by Exilia Lachapelle, the pedestrian, in San Francisco, in 1879, is displayed in a South Clark street pawnshop as for sale.

Chicago Notes.

A prominent resident of this city, who had business relations with [illegible] Howgate, says he saw him in Syracuse last Sunday, where he went to meet him on business. Howgate will report here when the trial is called.

North Carolina republicans and liberals here say they are sure to carry the state in the fall by a sweeping majority.

The new Chicago directory contains 153,000 names, making the population, according to publisher's estimates, about 588,000 in the city proper. The publisher's estimate for 1880 was below the census returns.

Hanging at Fort Smith.

FORT SMITH, Ark., July 1.—Edward Folsom was hanged to-day for murder of a saloon keeper named Stewart, and teamster named Massengill in August last. Folsom was a Choctaw Indian, 23 years old and of good family. He got into a drunken fight with two men and they were killed. Folsom's partner, James Hobbs, escaped. Folsom lately professed religion.

A Premature Panic.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., June 30.—Premature discharge of fire works in front of Cotton's store, about which several hundred people gathered last night, injured thirteen persons, one probably fatally. Most of the injuries were caused by runaway horses and panic among the crowd that trampled several persons upon the ground.

Capsized in the Missouri.

MANDAN, Dakota, June 30.—Last night twelve or fourteen laborers were capsized in a skiff, and shrieking loudly were borne down the swift current of the Missouri. None of them tried to cling to the boat, but three tried to swim ashore, of whom two sank in the quicksands and one was saved. Four others are believed to be lost. The full list of drowned is not obtained.

Smallpox in Minnesota.

CHICAGO, July 1.—Reports from portions of Minnesota say quite an epidemic of smallpox prevails in various parts of the state. Advices from Concharley Indians say 20 cases of smallpox there have proven fatal, and the pest still rages. The country is destitute and alarmed, and confusion reigns.

Unnecessarily Troubled.

The Inter-Ocean says: Reed and Scoville are unnecessarily worried over "the regret and remorse that will come to the American people" after the assassin has been hung. No living man breathes to-day who is so loathed by all the millions of thinking people, and no man ever suffered the extreme penalty of law who will have so few sympathizers.

A Lynching Probable.

TAYLORVILLE, Ill., July 1.—Two men have been arrested for a brutal outrage committed on Miss Bond, school teacher. It seems to be certain as to identification of one. A thousand men are said to be gathered at the home of the lady and that Judge Lynch will settle the affair before morning is the settled conviction of every one.

Advance of Wages.

NEW YORK, July 1.—Officers of the New York Central Railroad Co. have advanced wages of employes from to-day as follows: Switchmen get advanced $5 per month; doormen, $5; gatemen, $2 50; porters, $2 50, and boss porters, $5. The men are satisfied.

Fire at Milwaukee.

WASHINGTON CITY.

After the Execution.

WASHINGTON, June 30.—John W. Guiteau said to a reporter this morning that he thought his brother happier in death than in life under the circumstances, and if he (John) could, he would not ask him reprieved. John was in the same mood after the execution. "I believe he was insane," he said. "I predicted just what would happen; that he would go bravely to the gallows. The trial was a farce, and to-day an insane man was executed. Whether insane before God I do not know. I still believe if he was to be again tried he would be convicted. It was not a question for a jury."

A quarter past three the military guard on duty at the jail ever since the 2d of July marched away, loudly cheered as they left.

Very soon after the hanging Dr. Hicks and John W. Guiteau made a thorough examination of the cell occupied by Guiteau. Dr. Hicks took possession of the books and other effects of deceased. A great many of those at the jail visited the cell where Guiteau passed his last days. A disposition being shown by some persons to secure mementoes of the occasion at any cost, the jail officials took the rope from the gallows and secreted it as soon as the noose was removed from the dead man's neck. Dr. Hicks said when asked about the burial he did not want to say where the body would be interred. The funeral takes place to-morrow and will be private as possible.

Autopsy on Guiteau's Body.

WASHINGTON, June 30.—The physicians who performed the autopsy were Drs. D. L. Lamb, J. T. Hartigan and J. T. Ewer. John W. Guiteau and Rev. Dr. Hicks were present for a short time. Close examination of the body showed Guiteau's neck was broken and the rope cut a deep gash into the flesh. The body was removed, laid upon a table and scales and other appliances to determine the weight and other phenomena of different parts of the body placed about on tables. The operations of the three surgeons engaged in the autopsy were watched with great interest by other medical gentlemen who crowded about the table. After examination of the eyes the brain was removed to be inspected. Dr. A. B. Carling found the left eye completely suffused with blood, and both eyes so indistinct no opinion could be formed as to their condition or expression. Then the body was cut open and a thorough examination made with a view to determine all physiological facts that could be of interest in connection with the case. The brain was found to be in normal condition and weighed 49 ounces. The heart weighed a little over 8 ounces, was in healthy condition as were other internal organs. At 3:15 the autopsy was adjourned until evening. Physicians are disinclined to go into details in regard to results thus far reached. Dr. Hartigan left the jail soon after 4 o'clock, taking with him Guiteau's brain. Dr. Godding, who has maintained that Guiteau was insane, when asked the result of the autopsy said, "I have nothing to say now." All physicians agreed there was lymphas in the brain and hardening of the dura mater, and none of them care to express a positive opinion until after examination has been completed. Dr. Hartigan, who has custody of Guiteau's brain took it to the army medical museum, where, in a room set apart for photographic purposes, a number of surgeons and physicians [illegible] assembled to continue the autopsy. It had been the intention of surgeons to begin making plaster casts of the brain with a view to permanent preservation in that form of its configuration and [illegible] character, but the organ was found soft and yielding as to render this impracticable and [illegible] resorted, therefore, to photography. On account of the lateness of the hour and dull and cloudy sky preparations were necessarily hurried, but by placing the brain on a mass of curled hair, disposing it in the form which it had been during life, a number of negatives were taken from various points of view, with more or less success. Microscopic study of the tissues and structural characteristics of the organ will certainly not be finished before to-morrow afternoon and may occupy several days. Surgeons and physicians participating in the autopsy have pledged themselves not to make public in the meantime any individual conclusions they may arrive at, in order that the official report, when made, may have full weight and value, as representing the conclusion of all examining physicians. The neck was not dislocated or fractured as surgeons first supposed, but there was a rupture of the sternocleido mastoid muscle on both sides as well as of the thyrohyoid membrane. Death resulted from suffocation.

Guiteau's Visitors.

Washington specials speaking of visitors to Guiteau yesterday, say Mrs. Scoville presented a "dowdyish" appearance, and Miss Chevallier wore a rumpled white muslin, with pink sash, and white hat tipped rakishly over on one ear. She conducted herself more like a giddy girl on a frolic than a well balanced philanthropist, feeling the importance of her position, and apparently relishing the attention and interest excited by her arrival. She conversed with animation, gesticulating as she talked, and occasionally laughing aloud as if something amusing had occurred. She is even less attractive than Mrs. Scoville, having a free and easy manner and independent toss of her head, which savors of boldness, particularly as she emphasizes her remarks by slapping gentlemen on the shoulders with masculine familiarity.

News from Lieut. Berry.

WASHINGTON, July 1.—Secretary Chandler has received a cable message from Gilder, clerk to Lieut. Berry, of the lost steamer Rodgers, dated Irkutsk, June 3d, as follows: "Arrived yesterday, detained by breaking up of rivers en route. Had to kill horses for food. Leave for Washington as soon as business here is settled."

Washington Notes.

Just before Guiteau was hung a man appeared in front of the jail stripped of his coat, vest and shirt, and declared he had come down to see Guiteau. Four policemen grabbed him in a trice and hustled him off to the nearest station house.

Senate and house conference on the national bank charter extension bill, this afternoon came to an agreement upon all points in the controversy except as to the twelfth and thirteenth sections of senate bill, which relate to the issue of gold certificates and punishment of national bank officers for certification of checks. These sections will be considered to-morrow.

There will be another call for continued six per cent. bonds of 1881 early next week, probably for $15,000,000. It is decided to offer a motion to strike out of the bill the clause which empowers the secretary of the navy to close such navy yards as he may elect, and insert in lieu thereof a paragraph providing for the appointment of a commission of seven members, to consist of three members from each senate and house committee on naval affairs, to be appointed by the president of the senate and speaker of the house, and one to be appointed by the secretary of the navy, to visit the several navy yards, during recess of congress, for the purpose of inquiring into the expediency of abolishing any such yards.

Route from Rawlins to White river, Col., was taken up in star route trials to-day. This contract originally was transferred to Stephen W. Dorsey by a subcontract made with John W. Dorsey. Testimony related to increase from regular contract price and addition to the number of trips.

The cabinet discussed without determination interests of United States in affairs of Chili and Peru. The matter of so-called political assessments was referred to the attorney general for an opinion.

The bill establishing the territory of Pembina will be reported favorably to the senate.

Thirty-seven clerks in the land office and 41 in the patent office, were discharged to-day.

Washington as a State.

Mr. Brents has a printed speech in the Record on his bill for the admission of Washington territory as a state, with a view to having it made special order for early consideration. He claimed the population of Washington to be about equal to the present representative ratio and the assessable value of its property about $30,000,000 and the true value twice that amount. He claimed that the clause in the ordinance of 1787, providing for the admission of states in the northwest territory, with 60,000 inhabitants, was extended to the Oregon territory as they included Washington territory and Idaho by the 14th section of the organic act of 1847. He criticises the ratio principle severely and claims that it had never been a rule in the admission of new states and was repugnant to the spirit of the constitution. He shows that nearly every new state was admitted with less population and wealth than Washington has.

CONGRESSIONAL PROCEEDINGS.

Senate.

WASHINGTON, [illegible]

The joint resolution providing temporarily for expenditures of the government was signed by chair.

Resolutions were received from the house announcing the death of representative Hawk, of Illinois, and providing for a joint committee to escort the remains to their last resting place. On motion of Logan resolution was concurred in; Logan, McGill and George appointed on the committee, and as a further mark of respect for deceased, senate adjourned.

Committee amendments striking out provision for transfer in description of secretary of war of pension records from the office of surgeon general to adjutant general's office was agreed to.

The bill having been gone through with, Voorhees moved an amendment fixing salaries of the Utah commission at $1500 and appropriating $25000 therefor. Adopted.

House resolution making temporary provision for expenses of government by continuing existing appropriations until July 15th was concurred in by the senate with an amendment making the period of extention 20 days from to-morrow or July 20th.

House.

Robeson, after saying his character, which had been attacked by opponents of his bill, would stand abuse for a few days longer, since he had been known by members of the house for many years, then considered the provisions of the bill and propriety of completing monitors. He showed they were valuable vessels. If the United States was to build a canal across the isthmus, they were ships that could safely float there in a gale that would conquer a frigate, and could represent the responsible nation of the western hemisphere. He was advocating no policy, but in order to be respected the nation must be powerful, to be yielded to in her principles and policy she must have means to enforce them against all comers. In conclusion Robeson asserted that under the policy of the democratic party as represented on the question of the navy by the member from Tennessee (Whitehorn) $73,000,000 has been spent in the last five years and not one ship been launched except the Nipsic (which he said was finished) and not one new gun been put afloat. (Applause on republican side.) Bill was then read by sections for amendments.

Kasson of Iowa raised a point of order against the proviso applying to the admiral and vice admiral of the navy, the provisions of law requiring other naval officers to answer on points questioned.

Calkins moved to strike out the section abolishing the grade of commodore. Pending action the committee rose. Senate amendments to house joint resolution to provide temporarily for expenditures for government, were agreed to and house adjourned.

STORMS AND FLOODS.

Storm at Oregon, Ills.

OREGON, July 1.—A storm of unequaled severity occurred yesterday. The water rose on the flats, doing great damage. Dozens of families were driven from their homes, and fifteen buildings struck by lightning. One man, Mr. Spooner, was killed, and many barns and outbuildings carried away by wind and flood. A score of bridges floated off, and hundreds of acres of grain were entirely ruined. Horses and cattle were killed by lightning in nearly every pasture. Fifty thousand dollars damage was done to the city and vicinity. Miles of track of the Chicago and Iowa road are impassable.

Heavy Storm in the Northwest.

CHICAGO, July 1.—Heavy storms prevailed throughout the northwest early this morning and reports are beginning to come in of considerable damage to crops in Illinois, Iowa and Wisconsin. Rock river at Janesville rose three feet in three hours and the storm is believed to be the heaviest in this section for 25 years.

CEDAR RAPIDS, July 1.—There was a furious storm in Central Iowa Thursday night, but though a regular tornado it was for the greater part of its course in the air, not striking the ground except in a few places, where it demolished everything.

CALIFORNIA.

San Francisco Notes.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 1.—The quarantine officer has discovered twenty-two more cases of small-pox on the steamer Belgic, and seventeen doubtful cases. Chinese and white cabin passengers will be quarantined on separate hulks, and the Belgic, after disinfection, will be docked.

A meeting of the democratic state central committee was held yesterday, at which a resolution was adopted to the effect that rumors to the purport that the committee was not in accord with the action of the state convention were unqualifiedly false, and expressing hearty endorsement of all nominations made at San Jose.

FROM THE FRONT.

Organized Band of Horse Thieves Committing Depredations along Clarke's Fork—A Saloon Brawl, a Broken Skull and a Case for Judge Lynch.

CABINET LANDING, June 28.

There is some excitement here in mining circles. Recent discoveries of both quartz and placers in the vicinity of Cabinet are reported.

Notwithstanding the almost continuous rains of the past week the Clarke's Fork continues to recede at the rate of six inches in 24 hours, its total fall since the 13th inst., the date of the highest mark attained, is six feet and three inches.

A regularly organized band of horse thieves is said to exist, with some of its members located at this [illegible], other convenient points on Pen d'Oreille lake and the Clarke Fork to the Missoula, operating in connection with others in Eastern Washington and Northern Idaho, from whence the horses are stolen and driven north towards British Columbia. Some valuable animals have been taken from the immediate stations, while attempts to run off others have been unsuccessful.

A fracas occurred here this evening over a game of cards. A saloon keeper named [illegible] [illegible] was [illegible] struck on the head with a revolver, crushing in the skull. The wounded man [illegible] [illegible] lynching. A bystander who assisted [illegible] and two other suspicious characters were immediately fired out of town by the excited brother [illegible] of the wounded man.

NEW YORK, July 1.—Petroleum, 85¼@85¾ asked, refined 7⅛ asked.

Australian tin—22⅜.

Copper—steady—18½.

Business in general merchandise markets has been very light during the past week, owing partially to the fact that it is always more or less dull at the close of the fiscal year, but mainly to embarrassments in the matter of transportation, caused by the strike of freight handlers and other employes at various railroads centering at this point.

Wheat has been active but fluctuations have been extremely violent in order to close up the June corner. Cash wheat is dull. Exporters are refusing to enter the market.

English Crops.

NEW YORK, July 2.—World's London: Hay and clover are very heavy, but much of the growth is down and the weather is decidedly unfavorable to the chance of getting it into good condition. Wheat is thin and poor, having been injured by the spring frosts and cold nights which we have been having down to the present time. In midland districts the farmers have given up all hopes of getting more than half a crop. In other counties the prospects are better, but crops everywhere must be light and the loss to the already sorely tried agricultural community is severe. This of course will add greatly to the difficulty regarding the land question.

DR. BRENAN WILL GUARANTEE TO CURE any form of disease of the generative organs or private disease. He has become an expert in the treatment of disease, weakness and derangement of the reproductive organs of both male and female, including diseases caused by the FOLLIES OF YOUTH.

Such as Spermatorrhea, or Seminal Weakness, or Loss of Perfect Vitality. Nearly two-thirds of all the chronic diseases spring either directly or indirectly from some derangement of the sexual system, and yet this subject is neglected by the majority of the Medical Profession.

I know that persons who are unfortunate enough to be afflicted by any form of sexual disease have a delicacy in calling upon the proper physician at a time, from a sense of modesty and sometimes from ignorance, and permit those diseases to exist until their constitutions become corrupted, their organization broken down, and the hope of future happiness blighted, until death becomes a welcome messenger to carry them out of their miserable existence.

Everything strictly confidential under all circumstances.

Lost manhood perfectly restored. Catarrh, Bronchitis, Throat Diseases, Skin Diseases, Rheumatism, Kidney Complaint, and all Diseases of the Eye and Ear, Stomach and Bladder, he can cure without fail.

Consultation Free, and a list of printed questions sent to those living at a distance who cannot consult him personally. Enclose postage stamp for list.

Office—[illegible] St., opposite Masonic Hall. Office Hours: From 10 to 12 A.M., 2 to 5 and 7 to 8 P.M.

THE BARLOW ROAD.

THE MT. HOOD AND BARLOW ROAD COMPANY having recently purchased the franchise of the Old Barlow Road Company, announce that their road across the Cascade Mountains is open to all kinds of travel. The company having constructed a branch road from Sandy P. O. to the Toll Gate up the south bank of the river Sandy, the travel will be able to avoid the long, tedious route over the "Devil's Back Bone" and the five miles of heavy sand on the old road.

The bridges are all in good repair, and all the heavy hills are graded. The company are spending large amounts of money on the road, and will spare no pains or expense to maintain it as the best road over the Cascade Mountains in this State. Supply stations with provisions at the Toll Gate, Summit Prairie and White River. Toll reasonable.
